DESIGN FAIR

October 2019

The show features a curated selection of the best in home products from paint, furniture, lighting, appliances, and exotic natural stones. The booth featured the same layout as the year before where the most exotic natural stones lined the inside and outside of the 400 sq ft booth - many making their debut to the market.

Attendees to the show got to view and learn about the newest marbles, quartzites, and granites in the industry by visiting the Elements Room booth to chat with the staff. Presentations were also featured inside the booth which included presenters such as an Italian quarry owner that spoke on organic natural stone textures and creators of a new porcelain surface line created in Spain.
